Guidelines for Paper Submission (for Extended Abstract)

All submissions must be written in English language and must be made in Microsoft Word format(.doc/docx) only.

- An extended abstract is a short paper where the research work is presented in a concise way.
- The aim of an extended abstract is to share ideas and results in a way that is easily accessible to the readers/audience.
- The extended abstract must include all relevant aspects and information expected in a regular research paper without being too detailed. A common disposition is to divide it into the sections (although this is not obligatory).

Extended Abstract: The extended abstract should give a clear indication of the objectives, scope, methods, results and conclusion of your work. All manuscripts must include a 5,00 to 1,000 word extended abstract typed on a separate page.

- The extended abstract will be assessed with respect to the applied method and the correct use of it, the relevance of the introduced simplifications, the relevance of the Objectives, introduction, Methodology, results and discussion, the ability to clearly pass on the message, and the overall impression.
- Don't overlook the importance of the introduction, figures, examples, and conclusions (and measurements if applicable) in an extended abstract.
- Things that can be omitted from an extended abstract: future work, details of proofs or implementation that should seem plausible to reviewers, ramifications not relevant to the key ideas of the abstract.
